The Charleston Digital Corridor Launches its Official Web Site

The Charleston Digital Corridor announces the launch of its new official web site at <http://www.charlestdigitalcorridor.com>.

The Charleston Digital Corridor is a creative effort by the City of Charleston to attract, nurture, and promote knowledge-based enterprise in targeted areas of the city. With an overriding goal of offering tangible resources to the business community, the Corridor serves as a portal to government, infrastructure, real estate, professional resources, and education. In partnership with regional economic development agencies, utility companies and the private sector, the Corridor's commitment is to facilitate an environment where technology companies thrive.

An important element of the Charleston Digital Corridor's strategic plan is its web site. The Corridor web site is focused exclusively on providing relevant information to the existing knowledge-based community and those considering relocation. Components of the Corridor web site include: financial incentives, infrastructure, company profiles, real estate, professional partners, education and training and links to related resources.
